

Outlook Grim for Newport Tussle

WORD TO THE WISE... John Kulp, Tartar left end, who started off last week's 25-2 Tartar win against Rosemead by scoring the first TD, picks up a pointer from Coach Eddie Cole during a "breather." Watching the action is Chuck Vorhis, left guard for Torrance, who is also employed as a passing specialist. Tartars Are Underdogs Despite Victory in Season's Opener

If a sound thrashing is good for one's character, Torrance High's Tartars have a marvelous opportunity to pick up a long load of character Friday night when they meet Newport Harbor at the seaside field.

Last week, while the Tartars were outplaying a Rosemead team of questionable calibre, Newport scored almost a point a second to take apart a strong St. Monica Club, 54 to 0.

In trouncing St. Monica, the beach boys scored via the air and the ground routes. And on the few occasions they kicked, they did that well, too.

Although Tartar Coach Eddie Cole mustered a few bright words relative to last week's local victory he indicated that much improvement in backfield and line play was in order.

Too, Frank Costa, rugged right guard, was injured in the Rosemead game and will not see competitive action again until the opening Bay League contest against Inglewood on Oct. 7. Meantime, his spot will be handled by Jack Garland.

Whitest hope of the locals is the team's offensive abilities. Playing with a "damp, hard-to-handle football," the Torrance backfield handled itself with finesse behind a hard charging line.

Just what the team will be able to do defensively against the Newport Harbor squad is still a big question. It was generally felt that the Torrance defense didn't receive a real test last week.

Prognosticators

Pigskin Pickers Parade Lead by Feminine Fan

Last week's starting lineup of pigskin prognosticators are hanging their heads in silence.

Best handicapper of the week with a selection of Torrance over Rosemead by 18 points—was a woman.

Mrs. E. C. Narrot came within five points of her prediction. The final outcome of the Tartars' opening grid tussle was Torrance 25, Rosemead 2.

Scowling disheartenedly from the bottom of the totem pole is Police Chief Stroth with a 29 point miscall. He picked Rosemead by six points.

Here's how the eight pigskin pickers called them last week:

Mrs. Narrot	Torr.	Rose.	Diff.
"Red" Moon	18	5	13
Jack Baldwin	13	10	3
A. C. Turner	6	17	11
Judge Willett	6	17	11
George Barker	6	17	11
Milt Isbell	6	17	11
Chief Stroth	6	29	23

Judge Otto B. Willett, whose judgement is seldom questioned this week finds himself way out on the Pigskin Prognosticator limb. He is the sole prognosticator who is willing to hazard a hope for the local Tartars in Friday night's game with Newport Harbor.

In picking Newport Harbor, most of the local "brains" felt that: 1) The seiders are just too good; 2) The Tartars will be looking ahead to next week's Bay League opener against Inglewood; 3) The seiders are just too good.

Here's how they picked 'em.

Mrs. E. C. Narrot	Torr.	Newport
Elmer Moon	1	21
Jack Baldwin	20	20
A. C. Turner	12	12
Judge Willett	6	12
George Barker	18	18
Milt Isbell	10	10
Police Chief Stroth	7	7

Riverside On Deck El Camino Warriors Prep For Saturday Home Opener

After taking an 18-0 setback at the hands of Orange Coast last week, Coach Amby Schindler is preparing his El Camino Warriors for the first home encounter against Riverside Saturday at Redondo's Seahawk Bowl.

The Tiger clash will be the final practice tilt prior to the Metropolitan Conference opener against San Diego.

Schindler will probably start the same eleven that saw action against the Pirates: Roy Carver and Hershel Dean at ends; Bob Reading and Merlyn Wiseman at tackles; Larry Lien and Hal Rhine at the guards; and either Jack Chronister or Dick Dinges at center.

Tracy's Jim Sears and Wayne Bird will team at full back. Held at quarter and Ron Skriffl at full. Al Huey, Socko Torres, Ron Dixon, Milo Goetsch, Fred ... Charles will provide a backfield reserve. Game ... p.m.

TARTAR PASSING CLICKS; GRIDDERS LAUNCH SEASON WITH 25-2 WIN

By GEORGE BARKER

fully opened their 1949 prep grid schedule by swamping Rosemead High School, 25 to 2, Friday on the local green.

Demonstrating the gratifying quality of striking from far out, the Torrance Tartars successfully

Playing before a bi-partisan opening night throng of 2000, the Tartars overcame an opening minute two-point deficit to overwhelm the husky visitors.

Torrance rang up 11 first downs against Rosemead's five. The crowd had barely settled into the fog enshrouded stands when Rosemead had rung up two points. Torrance received the kickoff on its own five yard marker and on the first play from scrimmage fumbled in the end zone for a safety.

Then Torrance started to roll. As the clock showed time in the first quarter running out, Quarterback Boyd Crawford clicked off two end runs good for 34 yards. With Rosemead primed for a running thrust, Bullet Boyd stepped back from his position in the slot and flipped a 20-yard heave to Left End John Kulp who carried it to pay dirt.

Just before heading for the locker room at half time, Torrance rang up another tally. Wendell Vaughn was on the receiving end of the pass. This time, Charles Vorhis, right guard who doubles as leather slinger, behind ample protection lofted a 45 yard aerial to teammate Vaughn. Crawford sneaked through tackle for the extra point.

Torrance completed its scoring in thunderbolt fashion. Halfback Aramis Dandoy intercepted a Rosemead pass and galloped 25 yards to the end zone. Crawford caught the Rosemead defense on his heels and reeled off a quarterback sneak good for 30 yards and another TD.

Rosemead threatened only in the waning minutes of the contest. The game ended with the visitors on the Torrance nine-yard marker.

Torrance ... 25
Rosemead ... 2
Torrance scores: Kulp, Vaughn, Dandoy, Crawford.

Pre-Teenage Boys In Baseball Game

A young baseball team of kids from the ages of 9 to 13, the Gardena Stars, will entertain a similar team of youngsters, the Mt. View Dairy Boosters of Long Beach, at Gardena City Park in the second of their baseball series tomorrow (Friday) night at 8:30. The Boosters won the first of the series, 12-8 last week.

The kids play regulation hardball with all the trimmings.
